Subject Duplication of GCMD

Description of Problem or Suggestion:

Presentation did not adequately explain why design required duplication of the GCMD.

Originator's Recommendation

There can be separate interfaces so that there is an advertising service interface and a GCMD interface. But, there should be one system that contains that information! ECS should work with GCMD to ensure that the DIFs contain adequate information. If this is not a good idea, then there needs to be a better explanation of why duplication is necessary.
